MRS. GOULD LEAVES ESTATE TO FAMILY

Two New York Houses to Husband — Children to Get Remainder

(United Press)

TOMS RIVER, N. J., Dec. 3.—Bequests of $10,000 in jewelry to each of her children and grandchildren, amounting to approximately $100,000, and the bulk of her personal effects in two houses in New York City on her husband, so long as he does not marry, are the major items in the will of the late Mrs. George J. Gould, filed in Surrogate's Court here today.

The Equitable Trust Company, New York City is made the trustee in the will. Surrogate U. S. Grant granted letters of administration to George J. Gould, husband of the late Mrs. Gould, and Charles Prentice Noyes, of New York, to act as executors of the will.

Provision is made for minor bequests in servants, household attaches and other relatives, but the will states that the residue of the estate shall go to the children.

The two town houses to George J. Gould are at Fifth Avenue and Sixty-Seventh Street, and 177 East Sixty-Fourth Street.

FAMOUS SURGEON VICTIM OF FAKER

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—"Dr. Clifford Weyman," who acted as secretary for Dr. Adolf Lorenz for a few days after the famous German surgeon began his recent operations in this city has been fired. Also he has vanished. Mr. Lorenz is somewhat like to get hold of him, including physicians at the Hospital for Joint Diseases, where Dr. Lorenz has been working, and the relatives of some of the poor children the Austrian has been treating.

There are several reasons for the dismissal and disappearance of "Dr. Weyman." One is that he isn't a doctor at all. Another is that his name isn't Weyman. A third is that he obtained his job by the most arrant of false pretenses.

OFFICE SAFE ROBBED OF $24,000 IN GEMS

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—By means of a cleverly executed ruse, a sneak thief stole diamonds and other precious stones valued at $24,000 from a safe in the office of C. S. Mallitt & Co., 1 Maiden Lane. Mr. Mallitt himself was within a few feet of the safe during the five minutes the intruder, who represented himself as a telephone soliciter, was in the office. More than an hour elapsed before the loss of the gems was discovered. The diamonds ranged in value from $10 to $3,400.

This suspected thief visited the Mallitt offices shortly before noon. Addressing Miss Josephine Delamater, who was in an outer room, he said he was a salesman for a printing concern. Mis Delamater ushered the visitor into Mr. Mallitt's office.

A large safe stands near the door of the office. It happened that the outer door and inner door of the safe were open. While the stranger was waiting Mr. Mallitt was busily engaged at his desk not more than six feet away.

When Miss Delamater closed the safe later she noticed that two valiets of gems were missing.

MESSENGER ROBBED OF $3,000 PAYROLL

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—William Grant, 21 years old, a messenger for the Columbia Avenue Trust Company, of Broad Street and Columbia avenue, was held up and robbed of a $3,000 payroll at 2:15 p. m. yesterday by three young bandits, under the shadow of the tracks of the Reading Railway on Callowhill Street, near Twelfth.

On the south side of the street where the hold-up occurred, there is a high stone wall supporting the railroad embankment and on the south side of the street a high board fence.

Gray, who has been employed by the Columbia Avenue Trust Company for the last eight years, was on his way to the Thomas J. Beckmap Company, located at 310 North Eleventh Street, with the payroll in a satchel.

TWO KILLED AS BOOZE CAR HITS AMBULANCE

NORWALK, Conn., Dec. 3.—An ambulance driven by Dr. David W. McFarland, in which his assistant, George W. Dilworth, was taking a patient and two patients from New York to the physician's sanitarium, was struck by a large touring car on the Post road near here yesterday afternoon. Dilworth and John Zacherino, of Brooklyn, who were in the other machine, were so badly hurt that they died late last night, and three women and four men are in the Norwalk Hospital injured.

According to the Norwalk authorities the car which hit Dr. McFarland's machine was driven by Harry Perrotto, of Brooklyn. Others in it besides Zacherino were Angelo Mace, a Westport saloon keeper, who was prominent during prohibition enforcement authorities several times; Fred Roberts, formerly of Bridgeport, who is under indictment for carrying concealed weapons and who has been accused of shooting at two police, and Elia Natoltano of Norwalk. Mace and Perrotto have been arrested, charged with reckless driving, and their machine is being held for the Coroner. In the car, the Norwalk police said, they found a quart bottle of whiskey, while the odor of liquor was noticeable all over the machine.

LENA CLARKE FREED; JURY SAYS "INSANE"

ORLANDO, Fla., Dec. 3.—Lena M. T. Clark, who was shot by Lena M. West, Palm Beach, was found "not guilty" because of insanity, on a charge of killing P. A. Millimore, an Orlando real estate broker.

Baxter H. Patterson, jointly indicted with Miss Clarke, was acquitted without reservation by the jury.

The jury announced the verdict after about two hours' deliberation.

A. I. VANDERBILT LIKELY ESSEX COUNTY COUNSEL

NEWARK, Dec. 3.—Arthur T. Vanderbilt will be named early in January as county counsel of Essex to succeed Charles Pilgrim, if a decision said to have been reached by a majority of the Republican members of the board of freeholders is carried out. Mr. Vanderbilt is president of the Essex County Republican League.

CHARGE CLERK STOLE $29,000 TO BOOTLEG

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Harry Brenner, 32 years old, up to a few days ago a bookkeeper for the Broadway Central Bank and Jacob Fleischmann, 4 years old a salesman, were arrested last night charged with the larceny of $29,000 from the bank. They confessed, according to police, Love and Fitzpatrick, that they had talk in the room by Big Bill Dwyer of an embark on a bootlegging venture.

They were locked in a West 100th Street police station where Brenner told a story which involved Fleischmann as the man who had tempted him with thoughts of easy money to be made by getting money with the bank's money.

Brenner's wife, Hermann, who is a small dealer in the bank, told him and Love and Fitzpatrick, the story of him that it would work without danger of detection.

PLANNED TO TAKE 17TH HUSBAND IN 3 YEARS

(Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—Federal agents broke up Mrs. Helen Drexler's matrimonial venture here today, just as she was making plans to marry her 17th husband in three years, according to her confession to Captain Thomas I. Porter, of the Intelligence Unit. Posing as a widow of each husband, the little boy born from her second experience in matrimony, she added that she spent extra to the dead of allotment checks she received from the government, she said. Federal officials calculated she had received $500 a month.

"I was waiting for husband 16 when I met Wilfred Taylor, she related. "The draft got him and soon after landing in France he was killed.

Mrs. Drexler's brother also was killed in action overseas. Her little boy is Wilfred Taylor's son.

"I had to go to work or get married so I got married. Three months afterward my husband joined the navy, so I began collecting allotment checks. John Kelly, of the Brooklyn Navy Yard, was next. I left him and married husband number 3.

"Dear me, I can't remember all the names. Anyhow, I came to Chicago and married three sailors in quick succession. Albert Drexler, a Camp Grant soldier, was the 16th. I had a sailor picked out for the next, but your agents arrested me."

SAYS ROOSEVELT WAS 'BROTHER OF COUNTRY'

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—The late Theodore Roosevelt was the greatest leader of his country, Mr. Corinne Roosevelt Robinson, the former sister of a sister, declared here. Addressing a luncheon in Roosevelt's honor, Mrs. Robinson said:

"Washington was the father of his country. Lincoln seemed more like the savior of his country, speaking even in the darkest hours. But Theodore Roosevelt was different, he was essentially the brother of his country."

LIFE TERMER AMONG ARRIVALS AT PRISON

Eleven convicts were received at the State prison in Trenton during the week, the offer was among the arrivals of George Voegel of Brooklyn, convicted of killing Detective James Dooley in Jersey City early last November. He shot and killed the detective after the latter had arrested him for forgery.

Robert Hendricks, of Passaic County, must serve from 2 to 3 years for false pretenses and James Fleming, of Morris County 2 to 14 years for robbery.

WIFE KILLER USES BED CLOTHES TO HANG SELF

Using bed clothes to make a rope, Angelo Fiorelli, 3 years old, serving a life sentence in the New Jersey State Prison for the murder of his wife in his home, in Jersey City, on February 2, 1915, hung himself late yesterday afternoon in his cell. He was dead when discovered by a deputy.

Fiorelli tied one end of the crude rope to the top of the bars of his cell, and, after adjusting the noose about his neck, deliberately hung himself until a few days ago, the life terminus been employed in the prison as a butcher. Since being deprived of that position he seemed to be despondent.

The wife of Fiorelli, Sabatora Dani, survive. They are at present in an orphanage, having been placed there when their father was sent to prison.

The murder for which Fiorelli was convicted took place after he and his wife had separated. On the morning of February 2, 1915, he laid in wait for her near the Roebling plant on Swan Street and shot her to death. He was arrested by Detective Pilgeneer Prechodl, while attempting to get out of the State in a taxicab.

JITNEY INTERESTS WIN SUPREME COURT SUIT

Jitney interests won a victory in the Court of Errors and Appeals yesterday when, by a vote of 14 to 2 to 7, the decision of Vice Chancellor Griffin enjoining suits of the Public Service Railway Company to enjoin operation of busses in various cities was sustained.

There was no opinion in the Errors Court by reason of a tie vote which, however, is an affirmance of the vice chancellor's order. Justice Minturn filed a dissenting opinion for the seven judges who voted for reversing a reversal of the chancery decision.

An application for a reargument seems likely in view of the fact that one member of the court, Judge Van Syckel, did not sit in argument of the case. The chancery decision held that the Public Service had exclusive use of tracks and ways against competition by carriers but that it could slide those concessions. It was further held that when the company seeks to enjoin competing carriers from using the highways in competition it must be lawful, it has no standing in court to ask for injunctive relief.

METHODISTS TO OPEN CONFERENCE MARCH 8

Arrangements have been completed to hold the annual Conference of the Methodist Episcopal Church, March 8, in Atlantic City, according to the Rev. Melville E. Snyder, D.D., Trenton District Superintendent. The sessions will be held in the Ocean Grove Auditorium. Bishop Joseph C. Berry of Philadelphia, will preside.

Following the New Jersey Conference, the Pennsylvania Conference will be held in Atlantic City, March 22. Bishop Berry will also preside at this meeting.

TRENTONIANS HONOR N. J. LEGION OFFICERS

Eight members of Trenton Post, 101, American Legion, attended a reception to the state officers of the society in Jersey City, N. J., last night. Addresses were made by Henry C. Lindsey, past national commander; Joseph D. Moore, state commander, and Brigadier General William Carey Dey.

The party of Trentonians included Roland W. Smith, William R. Bonnell, John J. Paul, Harry Smith, Wilfred Woodhouse, Alfred Bickman, Philip Furman and Samuel Scott.

Preparations for the Christmas party for soldiers confined to hospitals, or otherwise unable to join their ranks are going forward under direction of Scott, who is the chairman of the Legislation committee. Candy and other sweet things will be supplied to men in the hospitals and to other soldiers who are in need of assistance, provided they communicate with the Legion. The party is reached by calling 505 on the telephone.

IS AMERICAN PUBLIC TIRED OF JAZZ MUSIC

(United Press)

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Is America tiring of "Jazz" music, as American popular music is termed? Maybe.

That is a question which is engaging the attention of theatrical men and professional musicians, as well as the amusement seeking public in general, as a result of the announcement of Oscar Radin, conductor of a musical show based on incidents in the life of Franz Schubert, the celebrated composer, that his orchestra will play Schubert's Symphony, "Unfinished" Symphony as entra'acte music at the performances of the play.

Mr. Radin states that it is the result of popular demand, for several months from the symphony was employed as themes for the musical accompaniment of the operetta. Many of Schubert's songs are sung during the action of the piece, including "Serenade" and others.

PARIS ACTORS TO WAR ON "THEATRE COUGH"

PARIS, Dec. 3.—Paris actors have decided to organize a campaign against the "theatre cough." Coughs they say, are a habit of coughing at dramatic moments in plays and spoiling the effect intended.

There is little excuse for 75 per cent of the "theatre coughs," explains Le Cri de Paris, a specialist, who say that a moment's concentration when the coughs is felt to be coming on will usually prevent it. There have been instances of actors threatening to stop performances interrupted by the coughing in the audience.

TO ENTERTAIN Y. W.

YARDVILLE, N. J., Dec. 3.—The Young Women's Christian Association will be the guests of Mrs. Farrell Murphy Tuesday evening.

Hypnotism Curing Girl, 19, Who Is Possessed of Her Own and Personality of Child of Four

(United Press)

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Dec. 3.—Bernice Bodkin, will soon have sole possession of her own body again, Dr. H. Goddard, psychologist detailed to study unusual case, today announced. Existence of a strange duality in the girl's mind.

Bernice, 19 years old, and Polly Bodkin, 4 years old—total strangers until a few weeks ago—have been sharing the same human body, but the strange arrangement is slowly killing Polly, it was found by the director of Bohn.

Bernice, who is working the cure in the peculiar case, is a junior at Central High School and a student in the Juvenile Research Bureau here where she is being treated.

"She was possessed of two distinct personalities," Dr. Goddard said. "In a single day Bernice changed back and forth eleven times from a four-year-old child to her normal self, a 19-year-old girl.

"The four-year-old personality said she knew Polly. Polly was Bernice's every way, in a four-year old child. It could neither read nor write, nor distinguish between colors. The child gibbered in "baby talk" and demanded her doll.

"When Bernice got the upper hand, she would have a bright, and cultured young woman, who wrote beautiful letters, read good books and had ambitions to become a musician.

"There was not a single connecting link between Polly and Bernice. When the girl was Bernice she had no recollection or acquaintance with Polly personality, and Polly was a stranger to Bernice."

The psychologist found that when under a hypnotic spell, the real self possessed the girl's body. In this state, Bernice remembered the two personages and upbraided the girl for her lapsing into infancy.

A few months ago, Bernice's mother could see she was coming to have a better understanding of her other personality and with a determination not to let the Polly personality possess her. Now we feel that Polly will soon be eradicated entirely."

NEGRO FOUND GUILTY ON STOLEN GOODS CHARGE; SUSPECTS PLEAD

FREEHOLD, N. J., Dec. 3.—Shepard McCoy, negro, who said that last summer was employed as a waiter at the Homesickie Hotel at Asbury Park, was found guilty by a jury before Judge Lawrence here of having stolen goods in his possession, the last one in the Pennsylvania Station and he Vernon Jones, negro, with breaking and entering the store of Daffin Nash on Spring street Avenue on the night of July 19 last and stealing silk shirts and necklaces to the value of $350. Jones, who is serving of the term Wednesday, Jones was sentenced to the state of non vult to receiving stolen goods. He then became a State witness and told how he had bought three of the stolen bags from McKoy on the street one night.

McKoy denied having been concerned in the theft or ownership of the bags at any time, declaring that Jones had brought them to a place they occupied jointly, together with Jones' wife, and that the Asbury Park Officers Williams and Tucker told how they went with McKoy to their headquarters in the City Hall, after pointing out the three handbags in a certain drawer as belonging to his roommate, Jones, who had left town for Atlantic City, where he was arrested and brought back. McKoy will each be arraigned for sentence Wednesday.

Viola Bowers, 18 years old, negress, and homeless, but who has been residing at Long Branch, was adjudged a lunatic by Judge Lawrence and committed to the State Reformatory for Women at Clinton.

Clemen Regliano and Frank Parisiek pleaded not guilty of attempting to steal a Ford automobile in Long Branch 16, and they were held in bail for trial December 16.

William O. Hoffman, of Red Bank, pleading not guilty of deserting his wife and eight-year-old son, was held in bail for trial December 19.

Theodore Ellis, guilty of threatening to kill Anthony Benvenga at Asbury Park September 21, Pasquale Travaglio was fined $1,000 and sent to jail December 15.

Salvatore Heldebrecht pleaded not guilty of assault and battery upon William E. and Carrie Packer in Wall Township August 18, and he was held in $500 bail for trial December 8.

Willie Archer pleaded not guilty of keeping a disorderly house in Red Bank, and she was held in $500 bail for trial December 8.

Paroled in February last for three years and fined $75 and costs on a charge of larceny, George White, of Asbury Park, was arraigned by Probation Officer Houghton for failing to make regular reports and payments to him as directed, and he was sentenced to the State Reformatory at Rahway.

James Harley, of Bradley Beach, who on November 3 was paroled for three years and fined $50 and costs and ordered to make restitution of $50 accounts with forgery in his wife's name to a check, was sentenced to three months in the county jail. Probation Officer Houghton said he soon after his release Hurley had been sent to jail by a local magistrate for 15 days on a drunk and disorderly charge.

For failing to make reports regularly to the probation officer, Samuel Smith, negro, of Red Bank, paroled in April, was sent to prison for a charge of carrying concealed weapons, was sentenced to ten days in the county jail.

Nick Dennico, of Red Bank, who had served a term in the reformatory for a six months sentence for stealing an automobile, was fined $100 and costs for carrying a pistol without a license.

NUTLEY IS DIVIDED OVER CAMEL WALK

Co-Eds. Deny Any Cause for Board Inquiry Others Apparently Shocked

NUTLEY, N. J., Dec. 3.—Publication of the investigations to be conducted by the School Board of dancing by the High School students of Nutley, N. J., caused wide discussion in the school, which for years itself on having only 273 in its coed High School.

A cross section off the loaf of Nutley public opinion looked like a slice of marble cake. The dark chocolate streaks being the heavily-veiled statements of certain Board of Education members, and opinions that dancing did occur, while the angel white parts easily represent the views of innocent students who were interviewed, rolled their eyes in disgust at the mere whisper of impropriety.

"The story that girls were put off the floor for doing the camel walk at Freshman receptions cannot be true," said Frances McIntosh, a pretty bobbed-haired girl with freckles, who is treasurer of the Senior class and president of the Junior class, "for every one here denies it, students and teachers, too."

Other students were excitable and less imbued with the awful responsibility of loyalty to school traditions. Some said a "dance" was held at the two girls who had come from Glimmerglass with their mothers and declared the feelings of the ladies on the Board of Education. "We don't know what they did," said one girl, these, "but they were put off, all right."

Morris Gottfried, only visible male member of the Board of Education, said: "I understand that a dance did occur, but I was not present at the dance. In fact, I have never been to one, and for this reason I am glad to have an opportunity to explain that I never said: I thought the children were going to the dominition low-down. I said exactly the opposite."

Mr. Gottfried, who is young, curly-haired, but without hard lines, of Freshman receptions cannot be true,
