FRIEND OF STAHL IS ALSO ARRESTED

Aviator Arrested in Connection With Perjury Growing Out of Lusitania Case

NEW YORK, June 14.—Heinz Hardenburg, an aviator and one of the German secret agents whose name has been mentioned prominently in connection with the Lusitania affidavits made by Gustav Stahl and others and submitted to the State Department by the German Embassy at Washington, is expected to be a witness before the Federal Grand Jury.

The jury is investigating an alleged conspiracy to defraud the United States on the part of those who obtained the documents in the first place in an effort to prove that the Lusitania was armed.

Hardenburg was taken into custody Saturday night at the post-office in Cincinnati. His appearance before the Grand Jury, it is said, will be under the supervision of the Federal authorities here. Hardenburg is believed to be one of the most important witnesses, if not a principal, in the government's conspiracy inquiry.

Hardenburg, Stahl and several others who have been mentioned in the case lived for a time at the Seaman's Home in Hoboken.

Hardenburg, according to the Federal authorities, is the last link in the chain of witnesses and evidence necessary to the government in its conspiracy probe. It may take a day or two, however, to assemble all the facts gathered for presentation to the Grand Jury.

A dispatch from Cincinnati quotes Hardenburg as saying that Stahl told him he was at work on the day he swore he was on the Lusitania.

While stopping at Bordentown, the man they believed to be Stahl gave several names and is claimed to have acted in a peculiar manner. According to the residents here, Stahl returned to this city after having borrowed a hand bag, and has not been seen since. He is said to have been well supplied with money.

SAY STAHL GUEST AT BORDENTOWN

Accused German Reservist Declared to Have Been There Until Day of Roebling Fire

Having seen the published picture of Gustav Stahl, the German reservist arrested for perjury because he swore that the Lusitania was armed when she left the port of New York, several Bordentown residents are firm in the belief that he is the same person that posed as hook agent in their town several months ago.

The man at that time stopped at the Bordentown House.

GUESS THE CENSUS, WIN CASH PRIZES

To inspire the study of home growth and conditions, which will lead to home-town boosting, the Times has arranged a Census Guessing Contest, with Seven Cash Prizes.

The First Prize is Ten Dollars in Gold, with other Prizes as follows: $8, $7, $5, $3, $2, $1.

The conditions are simple. All you have to do is to estimate, or guess on the population of Trenton to be shown by the Census of this year. Write your figures, with your name and address on a coupon to be printed every Sunday in the Times-Advertiser, and forward it in a sealed envelope to the Times office. The envelopes will be numbered in the order in which they are received and filed away unopened until December 1, when the official figures will be announced.

There is no restriction in the contest, except that employees of the Times and employees of the Census Department are barred. There is a limit, however, on the number of coupons to be received by one person. These coupons will be published every Sunday until November 26. The awards will be made as soon as the figures are announced and the envelopes can be examined.

Here's a tip—In 1900, Trenton's population was 73,307; in 1910 it was 96,815. Look around, study your city, estimate the 1915 population and win a prize.

WAR FIRED, WOMAN WALLOPS

CENSUS MAN WITH HER DOUGH; ANOTHER SAYS "I'D KILL SON"

Trenton has been hit figuratively, and a Trenton woman literally by the war between Italy and Austria on the other side of the world. Although no blood was shed, it was a warm little fight that took place between an Austrian woman and an Italian census enumerator in the Chambersburg section.

The enumerator was placed in this particular district because he is an Italian and speaks his native tongue fluently. The inhabitants are largely Italian and the services of an interpreter would have been required with an enumerator who could not speak the tongue.

The favorable opportunity which the census concentration in Camden now presents for an offensive in France and Flanders may never return again. The time is particularly appropriate because Italy's main strategic line has been severed and the Austrians must use all their troops not employed against Russia to meet any of several possible offensives.

While the German western drive has been checked, the British minister of munitions is delivering speeches trying to touch the hearts of British workers so that exhausted ammunition dumps may be replenished; and at the same time the French government, ten months after the outbreak of the war, is recalling artillery from the trenches to increase the output of its own war factories.

NEED MORE MONEY FOR KIDDIES' CAMP

Considerable Sum Must Be Raised Before Balance of Camp Fund Is Completed

A considerable sum is yet needed to make up the total of $1,500 necessary for the Summer Camp of the Trenton and Mercer County Tuberculosis and Sanitation League to be established along the New Jersey Coast for the anemic poor children of Trenton.

It is desired that the sum be raised by tomorrow. The league started out June 1 to collect $500 to complete the fund of $1,500. To reach that amount several donations are required.

The standing of the fund to date follows: Previously acknowledged $301 85 Teachers of U. S. Grant School 3 73 Mrs. Rose Samler 2 00 S. V. 1 00

Send your contributions to the Times office, at Mrs. Iva Blanchard Crasby, of 1320 West Street, to Charles Ehrlich of 949 West Street or to Frank Thompson, City Clerk, City Hall.

PLEAD NON VULT TO AIDING SLAYER

Fiorelli Testifies Against De Angelio — Three Others Retract Pleas of Not Guilty

Dressed in the apparel given discharged convicts Alipio Fiorelli, who is serving a term in the State Prison for the murder of his wife, on Swan Street last February, was brought to the Court House (this morning) to testify against the accused De Angelio, indicted for aiding and abetting his escape. White Fiorelli was testifying John H. Kafes, counsel for De Angelio, was making an attempt to hold the trial in abeyance by moving to quash the indictment scheduled for today as three other defendants, Enrico Spario, Alfredo Torlini and Mariano Spario, all charged with aiding and abetting the escape of Fiorelli, had previously retracted their pleas of not guilty and pleaded non-vult. They were represented by former Prosecutor Crossley. This will be resumed tomorrow morning.

The State's cases against those charged with having aided and abetted the escape of Fiorelli are now ended. One was found guilty by a jury and the other five retracted their pleas of not guilty.

announced today that the men would make no attempt to prevent the surface and elevated lines running the one car a day necessary for the completion of the project. The men are striking primarily for an increase in wages and better working conditions.

The present wage scale is a grading one with the minimum at 23 cents an hour and 32 the maximum. The maximum is for a man with 30 years of service. The men want a minimum of 33 cents and a maximum of 36.

The companies refused to grant the demands for a 10 percent increase on the ground that it could not afford it. The companies refused to throw open their financial condition to an inspection committee.

The company offered to appoint an arbitration committee composed of the following: The company to select one man, the men one man, and if those two were unable to agree on a third within 48 hours, Mayor Thompson was to select one.

This the men refused to do, saying that the ruling against them in similar proceedings three years ago was still fresh in their minds. They also demanded because they said Mayor Thompson himself owns a 300 share of Commonwealth Edison stock, valued at $100 a share, which company furnished the car companies their power.

Mr. Bowers complained to Patrolman Bentley that the gateman had no occasion to lower the bars at the time as no train was approaching. The auto was slightly damaged.
