MEASURE TO ALLOW LAW CODIFICATION

La Barre Anxious for Statute to Make Less Costly Revision of Ordinances

Director of Public Safety La Barre is having prepared a bill for introduction into the Legislature, providing that whenever there is a revision and codification of the general ordinances of the city, which revision does not substantially change the general ordinances now in effect in any municipality that the revision and codification need not be published in newspapers. Under the present law such publication is necessary and would cost Trenton about $1,000.

It is the desire of Director La Barre to have the general ordinances of the city revised and codified. All ordinances prescribing rules of conduct of the citizens would come under the proposed revision.

There has been no revision of the Trenton ordinances since 1903. There have been constant additions and amendments to the ordinances and even the legal department is put to considerable inconvenience, being obliged to go through several ordinance books to look up a city law.

According to Director La Barre it would be particularly beneficial to the police department to have a revised edition of the city ordinances and a copy placed in the hands of each officer. There should be a revision of the ordinances at least every five years in the opinion of Mr. La Barre.

GOULD'S LAWSUIT TO GAIN $17.82 ON TAX

NEW YORK, Feb. 4.—George J. Gould played a star role yesterday before Justice Platzek, in the Supreme Court as witness for himself in his suit to recover $17.28 from his brother, Howard, and Katherine Gould, from whom Howard Gould obtained a decree of separation in 1909. The small sum represents interest on a tax lien bought in by George Gould.

VIOLATED CODE, CHARGED PLUMBER

Connections Made for Water for Two Houses With Only One Tap

Alleged disregard of the City Water Department rules regarding house connections was responsible for Brearley Whitehead, ofthe plumbing firm of Whitehead & Whitehead being summoned before Judge Naar in Central Police Court today. He declared that he is with a corporation and personally could not be held responsible.

Judge Naar postponed the case and David T. Wittenborn, treasurer of the Water Department, and Alvin Bugbee, superintendent, are now taking up the matter with City Attorney Hartman to bring about a prosecution. This is the first case of the kind brought to the attention of the department since the licensing of plumbers.

According to the Water Department officials the firm failed to connect one house on Lee Avenue with the water mains and did not make returns of the connection with the other. A pipe was run through the cellar walls to supply one of the dwellings. According to the water officials the firm is liable to a fine of $60 and the plumber who did the work having his license revoked.

Up to this time the city has received no water rents for the supply used at either Nos. 112 or 114 Lea Avenue. James C. Brickell, inspector for the department, made an investigation. According to the water officials the Whitehead firm applied for service at 112 Lee Avenue July 29, 1913. They did nothing else so far as the department was advised.

January 25 the inspector reported sinks, baths, hose, basin, closet and heater connections in the two houses and a water pipe connected through the cellar wall to the house at No. 114, contrary to the rules. According to the rules every house must have a separate connection.

DANCE EXHIBITION FOR CITY RELIEF

Part of Entertainment Planned for Benefit Next Monday. More Donations

The program for the entertainment to be held in Association Hall Monday night for the benefit of the poor relief fund will be announced tomorrow by Mrs. Mercedes O'Leary-Tucker, who is directing the affair. Mrs. Tucker has arranged to have several professional dancers, who will give exhibitions of the latest steps. A musical playlet of her own composition will also be presented in addition to several other numbers.

Every resident of Trenton is asked to aid the relief work by supporting this entertainment. There will be no expenses connected with the affair and all the returns will be well used.

Owing to the storm, the number of poor who applied for aid at the exchange today was largely increased. Yesterday nearly 150 persons asked for clothing, food and shoes, and all worthy persons were given supplies.

Employment for a number of men and women was also obtained. Persons desiring help are asked to cooperate with the workers.

Through the efforts of the relief, the rooms in the home of Mrs. Rebecca Waldron of 621 North Clinton Avenue, whose pitiful case came to the attention of Times readers a few weeks ago, have all been papered and her little home made more attractive. Mrs. Waldron is 92 years old. She is being taken care of from day to day. William C. Dayton, paper dealer, donated the wall paper for the rooms and the labor was taken care of from another donation.

CHILD HOSPITAL PLANS APPROVED

Modern Structure to Be Eretced by City—Plan for Street Extension

With the construction of the Children's Hospital, as authorized by the City Commission yesterday, Trenton will have a most modern Municipal Colony. The proposed hospital will complete the group and will cost, it is estimated, about $48,000. Work on the structure will be commenced just as soon as possible. Scott & Day were the lowest bidders.

Bids for the construction of the hospital were received some days ago. They were for the structure as originally planned and for one wing left off. Scott & Day were the lowest bidders on each. For the structure as originally planned they estimated $37,250 and their alternate bid was $10,000 lower. The Commission adopted the first plans.

Sixty patients can be provided for in the new institution. It will be fireproof, two stories in height and of brick. The structure will be modern in every particular. Klemann & Fowler prepared the plans at the request of Mayor Donnelly.

It was the Mayor who has been responsible for the development of the entire colony.

Plans submitted by the Philadelphia & Reading Railway for the extension of Thropp Avenue under its tracks, will be laid before the Board of Public Utility Commissioners by City Engineer Swan. The plans call for a depression of the street and elevation of the tracks of the company. It is the intention of the Street Department to extend the street to Pennington Avenue. Commissioner Fell made the suggestion some time ago and Director of Public Safety LaBarre is also desirous of having the improvement made as it would afford a new outlet for the fire apparatus in that section of the city.

Commissioner Fell's plans for the extension of New Calhoun Street to Fountain Avenue and the extension of New Rose Street to the proposed street, were favorably received. He will have surveys made looking to the improvement.

Aubrey C. McKeen was appointed stenographer in the Police Department for a probationary period of three months.

WOMAN THREATENS SUICIDE, WATCHED

Having threatened suicide this morning following her sentence to the Workhouse for three months by Judge Naar, Florence Stilson, a young woman, is being closely guarded at her cell in the First District Police Station. She will soon be removed to the farm to serve her term.

The young woman has been picked up on the streets two times within a week, and was before Judge Naar a few days ago. She promised to reform then, but when she was brought before the judge this morning he thought it best to send her to the Workhouse.

When the sentence was announced the young woman declared she would commit suicide.

She declared she was not guilty, while he admitted he was guilty.

GERMAN SOCIALISTS DISOWN LIEBKNECHT

BERLIN, Feb. 4.—Dr. Karl Liebknecht was sharply disavowed by his party associates in the Riechstag at a meeting yesterday of Socialist deputies called at Dr. Liebknecht's request to take action on his attitude in voting against war credits at a session of the Chamber early in December and on his later campaign against the Socialist party's executive.

Dr. Liebknecht was not expelled from the party, as its rules do not permit of such action, but his case will be submitted to the next Socialist party convention.

DESERTED EVEN IN DEATH, WIFE PAYS FOR CRIME

No One to Save Murdered Woman From Grave of Pauper—Body Still in the Morgue

Her body in Taylor's morgue without a friend to save it from Potter's field, the toll of her misspent life is being paid even in death by Mrs. Marie Fiorelli, who was shot down on the street by her husband Tuesday. Her children, one five and the other nine, are left to the care of strangers and the father is sought by the police like a hunted animal.

Coroner Silas Bray is hoping that some one will advance the cost of a more decent burial, even if it is the man who is said to have caused her downfall. The remains will be held at the morgue until Sunday and if no one makes a claim by that time they will be carried to a pauper's grave.

The police declare that the lesson the tragedy teaches should give an effective warning. Mr. and Mrs. Fiorelli, it is stated, were happily married and had everything to live for when they were plunged into a domestic tragedy. The wife deserted the husband.

Fiorelli, it is asserted, was willing to be united with her, even after she had him sent to the Workhouse when he struck her because of her fondness for her paramour. The wife refused. Driven to desperation, the man planned the murder.

Chief of Police Cleary has sent descriptions of him to all the large cities, but the authorities are inclined to believe that he is still hiding in Trenton.

Groskie has been on unfriendly terms with Dumski for some time, he claiming that the latter stole considerable pork from him. Groskie even went so far as to procure a warrant to search Dumski's house for the pork. But the search of the house was not made.

The men got into an argument this morning and the shooting resulted.

It is charged that the two men quarreled in front of the house and the stabbing resulted. The slayer is said to have carried his victim into the house and seated him in the chair at the window.

MONUMENT PLACED IN CHEVRIER PLOT

Monolith Erected in Riverview Cemetery—Stands Nine Feet High in Granite

The last resting place of the late Louis N. Chevrier, in Riverview Cemetery, has been marked with a beautiful monument.

The stone is a monolith, standing nearly nine feet high and weighing more than 17,000 pounds. It is finished with the difficult "shell-rock" finish, and bears on the face the family name, Chevrier, in rustic letters, unlike any other lettering in the cemetery, it is said.

The material is the justly celebrated Barre granite, from Vermont, which is especially adapted to this class of work.

The work was erected by Alexander McDonold Co. under the personal supervision of the manager, A. R. Baxter, "the monument man."

Mr. Chevrier was for many years connected with the First National Bank of this city, and had hosts of friends who mourned his death.

Why is POSTUM Replacing Coffee?

People are waking up to the harmful effects of the powerful drug—caffeine—in coffee, which poisons the system, often resulting in nervousness, heart flutter, headache, biliousness and many other ills and discomforts.

The pure food-drink, Postum, is absolutely drug-free—made only of the choicest wheat and a bit of wholesome molasses. It contains no caffeine or other harmful elements.

If you doubt that coffee hurts you, a sure test is to leave it off for 10 days and use Postum. It's an easy change, too, for Postum tastes much like the mild, high-grade Javas. As the coffee-drug is eliminated from your system, your own feelings will suggest Postum and better health.

Postum comes in two forms: Regular Postum—must be boiled, 15c. and 25c. packages; Instant Postum—soluble form, made in the cup with hot water instantly, 30c. and 50c. tins.

Both kinds are equally delicious, and the cost per cup is about the same
